At IADE University I had a nice but unfortunately not complete experience, due to the Covid. The first step to get in touch with IADE's world is the "welcome week": I suggest you not to skip this meeting days because they are important to start knowing other people and to subscribe to some Erasmus group or network (I paid for the ESN Card which can offer some discounts in flights and experiences in Lisbon). Then, I followed 3 courses: Art Direction (in ENG), Advertising Design Project (in PT) and Audiovisual Directing and Production (in ENG). The first to courses are taught by the same teacher, Rodrigo, who is very friendly, funny and creative; he's also super available. I didn't have any type of problems to follow the ADV lessons in Portuguese because we had a specific and different (from our classmates) project to develop, so every revision with the teacher was in English (this because we were Erasmus student). Audiovisual and Directing Production was very interesting till we were following the face-to-face lessons; when we switched to the online modality unfortunately, we had to change also the project (that was supposed to be a short film developed in group). In general, I loved the creative and more free-self expression approach of this University; it's an occasion to experiment your ideas and your creativity.

About my life experience of Lisbon. In a first time, I found my accommodation in an apartment near Rato station, with Idealista app. But because I was not living a good experience with the other flat mates (they were all workers), I changed and I found my new stay in a student residence. I strongly suggest this solution and also to book your room there early! Here you have the occasion to know a lot of international people and to build nice relationships! The apartment is also a pretty good idea but if you can, always check that is only for students: in this case you will live a nice Erasmus experience.
Lisbon is a super safe, well-connected and beautiful city. You have everything you need: super good public transport, nice and active night life, events, nice and cheap restaurant, ecc. I create a group of friends there, and we planned a lot of trips around Portugal and it was amazing!
Portugal is wonderful for the art, for the culture, for the natural sites and landscapes, for the people!

I really suggest to you this experience! Even if I had to do the quarantine there and I missed so many experiences for that, I would never change this! I met new friends and I shared with them a lot, and I'm continuing to do that, by distance! It's amazing the international friendship that you can build with such an experience.
