

REPORT AL RIENTRO DELL'ESPERIENZA DI SCAMBIO - A.A. - 2018/2019

_Cognome	CHEN
_Nome	WEN
_Matricola	10599020
_Anno di corso	2.LM
_Corsi di studi	DESIGN DELLA COMUNICAZIONE
_Sezione	C3
_e-mail	wen.chen@mail.polimi.it
_Sede di scambio	KYUSHU UNIVERSITY
_Stato	Japan
_ID ERASMUS (per sedi in EU)	JPN FUKUOKA01
_Semestre svolto all'estero	2°

Testo

I am sincerely happy that I participated in this exchange project. I have gained a lot of different experiences and many very friendly friends. Firstly, the partner university arranged one support to care our living and organized some activities for ex-change student that offer a great opportunity to fit into this environment, this is marvelous action, so we have no problem to live here.

According to the credit demand, we have to choose 5 lessons, a bit more. But for my perspective, Japanese courses more focus on theory rather than studio. Various theories about design broadened my horizons, like speculative design, the media-archaeological tradition in art and reincarnation of media art. Give us more perspectives and open mind on design issues. The most impressive lesson called Editorial and Information Design Theory is creative, it fundamentally

I am sincerely happy that I participated in this exchange project. I have gained a lot of different experiences and many very friendly friends. This project has broadened our horizons, increased our multi-design capabilities, and has a better opportunity to experience different cultural backgrounds. This is a very meaningful thing, we can clearly understand the difference between Italian and Japanese design. In Italy, our courses may be more practical. Some practical courses will be arranged. Students are required to make a final product based on their knowledge. In Japan, we are more explored to theoretical courses. Except for the teacher's demonstration of some relevant types of examples, they also will take us to participate in some exhibitions or museums, asking us to experience these theories more deeply in these activities and to have a deeper understanding. And some of the design ideas are very novel, so you have to admire the creative imagination.

Firstly, we arrived at the school and there were special personnel to pick us up at the airport. There is also a special support who comes from the same country with you to help you integrate into life. It is so intimate to care our living and organized some activities for ex-change student that offer a great opportunity to fit into this environment, this is marvelous action, so we have no problem to live here, such as Chinese Dumpling Day, Korean Restaurant Day, City Site Walking. Not only can you reach a lot of foreigners, but many Japanese people from the school will also come to the event. The atmosphere is very good, everyone is very friendly.

According to the credit demand, we have to choose 5 lessons, a bit more. But for my perspective, Japanese courses more focus on theory rather than studio. Various theories about design broadened my horizons, like speculative design, the media-archaeological tradition in art and reincarnation of media art. Give us more perspectives and open mind on design issues. The most impressive lesson called Editorial and Information Design Theory is creative, it fundamentally changed my original thought, we collect the most casual trivia in the life and found the inner connections and visualized it by multifarious media methods. It inspired our interest, passion and motivation to explore more possibilities. I thought it's enormously beneficial and useful. Advanced English, This course is mainly to teach us how to write a standard and meet the requirements of the paper. In each class, the teacher will arrange several practices, to ensure that everyone has understood. The course setting is also very clear. We have mastered some basic structures and some key expressions through this semester course, which is very practical. About Digital Image Design, The teachers in this class are very approachable, mainly relying on the students' creativity to make any unrestricted works, and we are encouraged to participate in the competition. Usually, the form of class is very relaxed. Every week, everyone goes on stage to show their progress, and then let other students give their opinions. The teacher then gives their own suggestions.

Visual Perception, This is a quite professional theoretical lesson, explaining some phenomena about vision from the aspects of physiological anatomy and physical principles. We are any two people for a group, choose a topic of interest to you. Go online and find a lot of experiments related to the topic, let's discuss the most effective and useful parts together. Although I felt a bit boring at the beginning, there were many physiological terms, but when I finished this assignment, I discovered that when we have already known some well-known design principles, such as red will be more eye-catching and more attractive to others. And this course is teaching us the reason behind this principle.

Advanced Lecture of Media Art, at the beginning, I thought it was a design-related music lesson, which I found very rare. It was later discovered that it was mainly about the discussion of some popular design concepts. Every time the teacher writes several topics on the blackboard, each person chooses a topic he likes. Selecting a group of people on the same topic, such as speculative design, the media - archaeological tradition art, reincarnation of media art and a perspective of art and media technology. These concepts are very important and meaningful, and in the discussion, we can understand the different people's views on the same concept in all aspects, and raise their own questions for further discussion.

To enrich exchange life, I met many friends from different countries and built the deep and profound friendship. Take this opportunity to learn about the customs and ways of thinking of different countries. These precious memories will always shine in my memory. I led Editorial and information design theory is creative, it fundamentally changed my original thought, we collect the most casual trivia in the life and found the inner connections and visualized it by multifarious media methods. It inspired our interest, passion and motivation to explore more possibilities. I thought it's enormously beneficial and useful.

To enrich exchange life, I met many friends from different countries and built the deep and profound friendship. Take this opportunity to learn about the customs and ways of thinking of different countries. These precious memories will always shine in my memory.